Dear Old Morehouse

Dear old Morehouse, dear old Morehouse
We have pledged our lives to thee;
And we’ll ever, yea forever,
Give ourselves in loyalty.

True forever, true forever
To old Morehouse may we be;
So to bind each son the other
Into ties more brotherly.

Holy Spirit, Holy Spirit
Make us steadfast, honest, true
To old Morehouse and her ideals
And in all things that we do.

Crown Forum

Thursday, September 2, 2010
11:00 A.M.

Martin Luther King Jr. International Chapel
Dr. Gerald L. Durley was born in Wichita, Kansas. He grew up in California and graduated from high school in Denver, Colorado. Being endowed with exceptional basketball skills and a deep interest in improving the civil and human rights of African Americans, Dr. Durley chose to leave the west and venture south to Tennessee State University in Nashville, Tennessee. While earning a Bachelor of Science Degree in Psychology, playing on a championship basketball team, and serving as student government president, he became very active in the civil rights movement. After graduating, Dr. Durley became one of the first Peace Corp volunteers to enter Nigeria, West Africa. From Africa he ventured to Switzerland where he enrolled in postgraduate studies at the University of Neuchatel. While there, he was invited to play for one of the Swiss National basketball teams.

When he returned to the United States, Dr. Durley enrolled in Northern Illinois University where he again became intensely involved in the struggle for human dignity, and earned one of the first Master’s Degrees in Community Mental Health. He assisted in the founding of the Afro-American Cultural Organization whose goal was to teach minorities about their heritage. Upon graduation, he remained in DeKalb, Illinois, as an administrator, counselor, professor, recruiter, Director of Black Studies and liaison between Black students on campus and in the town of DeKalb. Recognizing his sincerity for positive change, the U.S. Office of Education invited him to move to Washington, D.C. and become Assistant Branch Chief of Pupil Personnel Services. A compelling desire to be even better prepared dictated that Dr. Durley enter the University of Massachusetts and earn a Doctorate Degree in Urban Education and Psychology.

The Institute for Services to Education, Inc. invited Dr. Durley to direct many of its major projects working with historically black colleges and universities. He later founded and became president and CEO of Perspectives International, Inc. to produce positive, constructive programs for African Americans and other minority communities.

Having been a dedicated educator, an effective psychologist, a nationally sought after motivational speaker, Dr. Durley was gravely disturbed by the decaying moral, social and family value systems throughout the nation. He enrolled at Howard University and earned a Master of Divinity Degree.

Combining the disciplines of psychology and religion, Dr. Durley moved to Atlanta, Georgia, and accepted the position as Director of the Counseling Center at Clark College (now Clark Atlanta University). He later became Dean of Student Affairs at Clark Atlanta University. His concern for families and children encouraged him to accept the Executive Directorship of the Head Start Program for Fulton and Douglas Counties in Georgia. Realizing that the spirit and mind must work in concert with the physical body, Dr. Durley joined the faculty at the Morehouse School of Medicine as the Director of the Health Promotion Resource Center.

Dr. Durley has been intricately involved in the global warming climate change discussions across the country. He was invited to a Climate Leadership Retreat at the Garrison Institute to share with scientists, clergy, and environmentalists. He has been asked to serve on the Conservation Funds National Forum on Children. Dr. Durley appears in the film The Great Warming where he is discussing climate change with urban youngsters at the YMCA. Recently, he was asked to testify before the Environmental Protection Agency. On April 22, Dr. Durley made possible a forum for the clergy of Atlanta to speak about religion and science on Earth Day. Dr. Durley truly believes that for the environment to be saved, the educational, scientific, business, political and religious communities must join forces and agree on positive actions for immediate, constructive change.

Dr. Durley has served and continues to serve on numerous boards of directors: The March of Dimes, The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP); president of the Concerned Black Clergy of Metropolitan Atlanta; the Atlanta Union Mission, Vision 2020 of Atlanta, Healthy Fulton County Initiative, Atlanta’s Tuberculosis Task Force, Communities in Schools of Georgia, as Adjunct Professor—Morehouse School of Medicine; the Atlanta Beltline Partnership; the Mayor’s Commission to Rename Hartsfield Airport; the Mayor’s Youth and Violence Prevention Task Force; Grace Crum Rollins’ School of Public Health—Emory University Violence and Injury Advisory Board, Atlanta Diabetes Board; The Atlanta Project; Georgia Power Company’s Diversity Advisory Council; American Tract Society Board; Regional Council of Christian Churches, Faith Alliance of Metropolitan Atlanta; World Pilgrims Board; Chair, Hughes-Spaulding Children’s Hospital; Interfaith Advisory Corrections Board; and the Interdenominational Theological Center Strategic Planning Board.

Pastor Dr. Durley is called upon to address hundreds of civic, political, higher education, and social groups throughout the year on various topics. He is a highly sought after motivational/inspirational speaker.

Pastor Durley was an associate pastor at Mt. Olive Baptist Church in Arlington, Virginia. He was ordained and became a pulpit associate at Ebenezer Baptist Church in Atlanta, Georgia. He has served as the Pastor of the historic Providence Missionary Baptist Church of Atlanta, Georgia for the past 20 years.

He has been married for thirty-nine years to his wife, Muriel. Together they have one daughter, Nia, and one son, Hasan. He is the grandfather of four.
Dr. Gerald L. Durley

Dr. Gerald L. Durley was born in Wichita, Kansas. He grew up in California and graduated from high school in Denver, Colorado. Being endowed with exceptional basketball skills and a deep interest in improving the civil and human rights of African Americans, Dr. Durley chose to leave the west and venture south to Tennessee State University in Nashville, Tennessee.

While earning a Bachelor of Science Degree in Psychology, playing on a championship basketball team, and serving as student government president, he became very active in the civil rights movement. After graduating, Dr. Durley became one of the first Peace Corp volunteers to enter Nigeria, West Africa. From Africa he ventured to Switzerland where he enrolled in postgraduate studies at the University of Neuchatel. While there, he was invited to play for one of the Swiss National basketball teams.

When he returned to the United States, Dr. Durley enrolled in Northern Illinois University where he again became intensely involved in the struggle for human dignity, and earned one of his first Master's Degrees in Community Mental Health. He assisted in the founding of the Afro-American Cultural Organization whose goal was to teach minorities about their heritage. Upon graduation, he remained in DeKalb, Illinois, as an administrator, counselor, professor, recruiter, Director of Black Studies and liaison between Black students on campus and in the town of DeKalb. Recognizing his sincerity for positive change, the U.S. Office of Education invited him to move to Washington, D.C. and become Assistant Branch Chief of Pupil Personnel Services. A compelling desire to be even better prepared dictated that Dr. Durley enter the University of Massachusetts and earn a Doctorate Degree in Urban Education and Psychology.

The Institute for Services to Education, Inc. invited Dr. Durley to direct many of its major projects working with historically black colleges and universities. He later founded and became president and CEO of Perspectives International, Inc. to produce positive, constructive programs for African Americans and other minority communities.

Having been a dedicated educator, an effective psychologist, a nationally sought after motivational speaker, Dr. Durley was gravely disturbed by the decaying moral, social and family value systems throughout the nation. He enrolled at Howard University and earned a Master of Divinity Degree.

Combining the disciplines of psychology and religion, Dr. Durley moved to Atlanta, Georgia, and accepted the position as Director of the Counseling Center at Clark College (now Clark Atlanta University). He later became Dean of Student Affairs at Clark Atlanta University. His concern for families and children encouraged him to accept the Executive Directorship of the Head Start Program for Fulton and Douglas Counties in Georgia. Realizing that the spirit and mind must work in concert with the physical body, Dr. Durley joined the faculty at the Morehouse School of Medicine as the Director of the Health Promotion Resource Center.

Dr. Durley has been intricately involved in the global warming climate change discussions across the country. He was invited to a Climate Leadership Retreat at the Garrison Institute to share with scientists, clergy, and environmentalists. He has been asked to serve on the Conservation Funds National Forum on Children. Dr. Durley appears in the film The Great Warming where he is discussing climate change with urban youngsters at the YMCA. Recently, he was asked to testify before the Environmental Protection Agency. On April 22, Dr. Durley made possible a forum for the clergy of Atlanta to speak about religion and science on Earth Day. Dr. Durley truly believes that for the environment to be saved, the educational, scientific, business, political and religious communities must join forces and agree on positive actions for immediate, constructive change.

Dr. Durley has served and continues to serve on numerous boards of directors: The March of Dimes, The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP); president of the Concerned Black Clergy of Metropolitan Atlanta; the Atlanta Union Mission; Vision 2020 of Atlanta, Healthy Fulton County Initiative, Atlanta's Tuberculosis Task Force, Communities in Schools of Georgia, as Adjunct Professor—Morehouse School of Medicine; the Atlanta Beltline Partnership; the Mayor's Commission to Rename Hartsfield Airport; the Mayor's Youth and Violence Prevention Task Force; Grace Crum Rollins' School of Public Health—Emory University Violence and Injury Advisory Board; Atlanta Diabetes Board; The Atlanta Project, Georgia Power Company's Diversity Advisory Council; American Tract Society Board; Regional Council of Christian Churches; Faith Alliance of Metropolitan Atlanta; World Pilgrims Board; Chair, Hughes-Spalding Children’s Hospital, Interfaith Advisory Corrections Board; and the Interdenominational Theological Center Strategic Planning Board.

Pastor Dr. Durley is called upon to assist hundreds of civic, political, higher education, and social groups throughout the year on various topics. He is a highly sought after motivational/inspirational speaker.

Pastor Dr. Durley was an associate pastor at Mt. Olive Baptist Church in Arlington, Virginia. He was ordained and became a pulpit associate at Ebenezer Baptist Church in Atlanta, Georgia. He has served as the Pastor of the historic Providence Missionary Baptist Church of Atlanta, Georgia for the past 20 years.

He has been married for thirty-nine years to his wife, Muriel. Together they have one daughter, Nia, and one son, Hasan. He is the grandfather of four.
Dear Old Morehouse

Dear old Morehouse, dear old Morehouse
We have pledged our lives to thee;
And we'll ever, yea forever,
Give ourselves in loyalty.

True forever, true forever
To old Morehouse may we be;
So to bind each son the other
Into ties more brotherly.

Holy Spirit, Holy Spirit
Make us steadfast, honest, true
To old Morehouse and her ideals
And in all things that we do.