The institutions that make up the Atlanta University Center Consortium are Clark Atlanta University, Morehouse College, Morehouse School of Medicine and Spelman College.

MEMORIALS/MAIN CAMPUS AREAS

Martin Luther King Jr. International Chapel (31a)

The Martin Luther King Jr. International Chapel serves as the "living room" of historic Morehouse College. The Chapel seeks to develop and promote clergy, laity and youth awakening through reconciliation, non-violence, science, spirituality and the building of global "communities of hope." The Chapel is the world's most prominent religious memorial to alumnus Martin Luther King Jr. '48.

Martin Luther King Jr. Statue (33)

The King Statue, located on the King Chapel plaza, is the only statue in the state of Georgia honoring Martin Luther King Jr. '48. It was dedicated in May 1984 and has become the photo opportunity hotspot for thousands of campus visitors.

International Hall of Honor (31a)

The International Hall of Honor, located in the Martin Luther King Jr. International Chapel, honors persons from the 20th and 21st centuries who have made significant contributions to civil and human rights.

Benjamin Elijah Mays National Memorial (7)

Dr. Benjamin Elijah Mays was laid to rest on the Morehouse campus in 1984. A memorial in honor of Mays is on the College's Century Campus, site of Morehouse's Commencement exercises. Mays, considered the architect of Morehouse's reputation for academic excellence, served as president of Morehouse from 1940 to 1967.

The Howard Thurman National Obelisk (32)

The Howard Thurman National Obelisk honors a man known as a forerunner in the interdenominational religious movement. Thurman, a 1923 graduate of Morehouse, served as a teacher and preacher at Morehouse and Spelman colleges.

Century Campus (46)

The Century Campus is the College's historic center. The beautiful green space annually serving as the site for Commencement exercises.

BUILDINGS

The Visitors Center (39)

The Visitors Center houses the offices of Recruitment and Admissions, Alumni Relations and Communications. Guided tours of the campus begin in this building.

Davidson House (42a)

Davidson House serves as the executive center of Morehouse College. Named for alumnus Robert C. Davidson Jr. '67, the house serves as a venue for meetings, conferences and fund-raising activities, as well as the residence of the president of the College. (Not open for tours.)

Gloster Hall (31b)

Honoring former Morehouse President Dr. Hugh M. Gloster '31 (1967-1987), the building houses the main administrative offices of the College, including the offices of the president and his cabinet. The building is also home to the offices of Admissions, Financial Aid, Records and Registration and Human Resources. Gloster's memorial is outside the building.

Graves Hall (1)

Honoring Samuel T. Graves, the second president of Morehouse College (1885-1890), Graves Hall is the oldest building on campus. It was the site of the entire school when it moved to Atlanta from Augusta.

Kilgore Campus Center (16b)

Named in honor of civil rights activist and Morehouse alumnus the Rev. Thomas Kilgore Jr. '35, the center is a multipurpose building that houses the President's Dining Room, a snack bar, a game room, a student lounge, guest quarters and administrative offices.

Walter E. Massey Leadership Center (34)

This 70,000-square-foot facility houses the Division of Business Administration and Economics, the Andrew Young Center for Global Education, and the Emma and Joe Adams Public Service Institute. The building features state-of-the-art technology that promotes collaboration among students, faculty, staff and administration.

Shirley A. Massey Executive Conference Center (35)

Named after the College's former first lady, Shirley A. Massey, the Executive Conference Center houses conference room space, a number of seminar rooms, an atrium area used for receptions, and the Bank of America Auditorium.

The Ray Charles Performing Arts Center (40)

The 76,000-square-foot center for music teaching and performance is a $20-million facility that houses the Department of Music, the Emma and Joe Adams Concert Hall, 12 faculty studios, nine practice rooms, a digital/analog recording studio, and rehearsal space for the Morehouse College Marching Band and the Morehouse College Glee Club.

In December 2013, The Woodruff Foundation donated Morehouse $5 million to renovate the Martin Luther King Jr. International Chapel, which was built in 1978 and is the world's most prominent religious edifice built in honor of King.

MOREHOUSE MILESTONES

From producing the first Rhodes scholar from a historically black college or university to its historical significance in the civil rights movement, Morehouse College is worth a closer look...

The Cinema, Television and Emerging Media Studies Program launched in 2012. The program prepares students to be storytellers and media consumers of film and television and offers them a foundation for graduate-level study and/or professional careers in the industry.

In January 2013, Morehouse became the first historically black college or university to partner with the Stamps Family Charitable Foundation, one of the nation's most renowned merit scholarship programs. Only 300 students at 24 colleges and universities are in the program, which has produced two Rhodes Scholars since 2014.

For only the second time in Georgia's history, a U.S. president delivered a commencement address at an institution in the state when President Barack Obama was Morehouse's commencement speaker in May 2013.

In 2013, the Morehouse College athletic program was named the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Conference's most successful program. It was the fifth time within six years that Morehouse athletes earned that honor.

Morehouse is a member of the Atlanta University Center Consortium, along with Spelman College, Clark Atlanta University and the Morehouse School of Medicine. That means our students have all the advantages of a small-college experience—a small student/teacher ratio, a mentoring culture—while enjoying the diversity and energy of a university-like setting.

The College's sprawling 66-acre campus sits in the heart of Atlanta, a dynamic international city that is home to many popular cultural attractions, including The King Center, the Georgia Aquarium, Centennial Olympic Park and the CNN Center. Atlanta is also a college town with students attending a number of institutions such as Georgia Tech, Emory, Georgia State, Oglethorpe and Agnes Scott.

All of these elements come together to create a collegiate environment uniquely suited to develop global leaders who will change their communities, the nation and the world. On this historic campus, the iconic leader of the civil rights movement was inspired, an Oscar-nominated filmmaker directed his first major production, the first Rhodes scholar from a historically black college was named, and countless black men accepted the call to become more than men, but Morehouse Men.

Welcome to Morehouse College

Morehouse College is an academic incubator where the best of the past and the future converge to create a one-of-a-kind academic village. The ageless words of Martin Luther King Jr., a 1948 alumnus, are inscribed on the walls of the chapel named in his honor. The steady gaze of Benjamin E. Mays—the College's sixth president who was credited with being the architect of the school's international reputation for excellence—peers across the manicured lawn of Century Campus where, each spring, approximately 500 predominantly African American men graduate. Historically, Morehouse has graduated more African American men than any college in the nation.

Men of Morehouse are educated in facilities that are equipped with the latest technological advances for 21st-century learning, such as the Walter E. Massey Leadership Center's smart boards and the state-of-the-art digital music laboratory in the Ray Charles Performing Arts Center.
